Once you have the topic sentence, follow it by providing supporting information. You can choose to use bullet points or numbered lists if you would like. After that, lead into the main points of your blog post by using transition words such as first, next, and finally. ## Target Audience

Almost every article writer has a target audience in mind when first starting out their article writing career. Do know that your target audience is not only the people who will read your article but also those who will also benefit from reading it (e.g., other bloggers). You have to choose the right words in order to better engage your target audience. Also, you can ensure they stay interested by being strategic about your topic selection and choosing a topic in a niche that is interesting to a wide variety of readers. ## Top Blogging Tips

From the beginning of their article writing career, bloggers have been exploring various aspects of blogging. As they progress throughout their journey, they start learning from their own mistakes or from the lessons of other article writers who have come before them. In this section, we will discuss some of the best tips you can use to become a better blogger. Use caution when publishing content with strong opinions. While this may seem like a natural approach to take, you can sometimes get in trouble for making your opinion too clear. For example, you might say something such as "This is what I think about the new software XYZ" when it could be interpreted as a personal attack on your employer or company. Use strong, compelling images with descriptive captions. Adding an image with an appropriate caption improves the appearance of your blog and attracts more readers. Write and publish guest posts. Writing and publishing guest posts not only helps you sharpen your own skills but will also help represent your brand and increase visibility in search results pages. Use social media sites like Twitter to interact with your audience. Utilize your social media profiles (e.g., Facebook, Twitter) to engage with your target audience and make them feel part of an ongoing conversation. Link out to other relevant content on the Internet by using keyword tags and social bookmarking sites like Stumble Upon. This will help users find other articles that are relevant.
